SARAH CONSULTING,

Multidisciplinary consulting firm.

- SARAH-Consulting, is a multidisciplinary consulting firm specializing in development engineering. Its missions establish a wide range of fields of which the most salient are technical and social engineering, economy and environment.
- Our mission is to offer our clients consulting services that meet international standards, taking into account socio-environmental needs. Faced with an increasingly complex public and private demand linked to ever greater socio-economic and environmental constraints, SARAH Consulting has set up a partnership network with large international companies specializing in development engineering in order to offer solutions and services always at the forefront of innovation.
- Our values guide our actions and behavior and remain the foundation of our organization. They influence the way we work together, support our clients and engage with our stakeholders. These values are based on professional and moral credibility, integrity, responsibility and technical excellence.
- Our strategic vision is to focus on areas of expertise where we can excel and become a leader at both local and regional level. This is how we made rural and local development our cornerstone.
